Summary of the core products of the dining car trailer

The food truck trailer is an all-round entrepreneurial equipment specially designed for mobile catering business. With the core advantages of "flexible mobility, integrated functions, and low cost compliance", it can cover multi-scene business without a fixed store, and become the preferred choice for snack entrepreneurs and food brands to expand outdoor channels.

The basic configuration of the product is solid: the welded frame is made of thick square steel, and the double-layer anti-rust process of hot-dip galvanizing + electrostatic powder coating is used to resist the erosion of outdoor wind and rain and smoke; The body is equipped with a polyurethane foaming insulation layer, which achieves warmth in winter and coolness in summer, ensuring the freshness of ingredients and the comfort of operation. The walking system is compatible with 185R15C and other specifications of vacuum tires and steel spring suspension. It can be towed by ordinary SUVs or pickups, and can flexibly navigate through various scenes such as urban roads, scenic spots, and markets. Safety compliance is full, equipped with a complete set of LED waterproof lamps, reflective signs, built-in fire extinguishers, gas leakage alarm devices, and some models support business registration to avoid illegal risks.

Functional design is modular and comprehensive: the cooking area can be customized with gas stoves, deep fryers, and other equipment, coupled with a smoke removal and purification system; The storage area includes a refrigerator, a freezer, and an anti-moisture storage cabinet, which meet the requirements for the classification and storage of ingredients; The sales area is equipped with an open window and a foldable tabletop, with ambient lighting to enhance the experience; At the same time, it supports external power supply or independent power supply of lithium battery, equipped with food-grade double water tank, and realizes the whole process operation of "cooking-storage-sale-cleaning".

The specifications are flexible and adapt to various needs, the 3.5m small model is suitable for light categories such as breakfast and beverages, the 4.2m standard model can meet the needs of fast food and barbecue, and the 5.0m large model is suitable for multi-functional food service. Its core advantage lies in breaking the limitation of location selection, it can shift to high traffic areas, and the startup cost is much lower than that of physical stores, one person can operate it, and it also supports customized modification of body patterns and functional configuration.

It is widely used in scenarios such as street food stalls, events and competitions, supplementary catering in scenic spots and commercial areas, and brand outdoor flash sales, with high adaptability and low threshold to help entrepreneurs quickly start their projects and provide flexible and efficient new solutions for catering operations.
